GLUTE PRESS

CF8131

The patented BodyKore CF8133 Glute Press innovatively merges a leg press sled with a glute thrust machine, offering a multi-functional workout experience. Users can easily transition between pressing weights upwards to performing thrust movements, thanks to a switchable bench and a secure seat belt for hip engagement. The machine features an adjustable footplate with dual angles for varied exercises, enhancing targeting of the quadriceps, hamstrings, glutes, and calves. The bench's angle adjusts via a hydraulic lift, while the machine is designed for smooth operation on rollers along guide rods, facilitating seamless exercise transitions.
